

Dear Valued Customer

We want to take this opportunity to inform you of many exciting developments that have recently occurred at AXXIS Petroleum. We recently restructured to focus on our core AXXIS business, so that we are better positioned to provide you with the software and services you need. In addition, we have made several advancements including;

- New software product releases – Our latest release provide even greater value to both existing and new customers including; Price Management 4.5, Price Rite Dispatch Rite and eCapture.
- New Ethanol Price services – in response to your request, we now provide the same great service for Ethanol that you've come to expect for Gas and Distillates.
- New investment in resources - Rich Lisauskas has rejoined the organization as Vice President of Sales and Art King has joined the team as Vice President of Marketing. Together, Rich and Art bring a combined 35+ years of executive level sales, marketing and business development experience that assures business growth.

While these new developments are important, we have not lost sight of what makes us unique in the marketplace. We continue to maintain the highest levels of accuracy, detailed history, industry experience and personalized customer service that you've come to expect only from AXXIS.

Over the course of the next few weeks representatives from AXXIS will be in contact with you to conduct a brief account review so that we can continue to make sure that we are providing you with the service you desire.

In the meantime, if you have any questions, or would like to discuss any of the new developments, please contact Rich Lisauskas at 651-644-8280 Ext:32, rlisauskas@axxispetro.com, and Art King at 651-644-8280 Ext:33, aking@axxispetro.com.

We thank you again for being a valued AXXIS customer and we look forward to a long and mutually beneficial relationship.

Sincerely,

The AXXIS Petroleum Team

Price Management 4.5

AXXIS Price Management is our industry leading software application that automates the capture of daily posted rack prices by marketers and other buyers in support of their "Best Buy" decision making. Using Price Management, buyers can calculate gross, net, and "laid-in" or delivered prices and compare them directly, ensuring that their daily choice of supplier and pickup location results in the best possible price. Version 4.5 further enhances the application by providing; unlimited product codes, date-time stamping, terminal grouping facility and new Windows presentation screens. Key benefits of Price Management include:

- Improved Control – due to ability to provide Reporting ONLY roles
- Greater Convenience - due to more intuitive inquiries and online help
- Cost Savings – due to ability to get to data faster

When it comes to price discovery, accuracy is the most crucial factor
to your bottom line.
